GreyWorks 2010, Summer Workshop on Grey Literature

'TRANSPARENCY GOVERNS THE GREY LANDSCAPE'

The Library of Congress, Washington D.C. USA
Madison Building, August 9, 2010

Over the past 15 years, Grey Literature has developed from a millennium movement to a well defined field in information studies. The needs and demands of information society are in constant state of change and flux. To a great extent, grey literature is the cause of this. Grey Literature has grown exponentially in relation to commercially published literature and now challenges informational professionals in all sectors of government, academics, business and industry.

GreyWorks 2010 is sponsored by Federal Library and Information Center Committee

GreyWorks 2010 consists of Four Modules:

An Introduction to Grey Literature

Background, Definition, Document Types, Collections, Standardization, Classification, etc.

Supply-side of Grey Literature

Production, Publishing, Authors, Researchers, Metadata, Ownership, Copyright, Peer Review Process, etc.

Demand-side of Grey Literature

Use, Usage, Users, Access, Search and Retrieval, Repositories, Document Delivery, etc.

Future Trends in Grey Literature

Open Access, Preservation, Policy Development, Networking, Education and Training, etc.

Each module is a mix of formal presentation, exercises, and informal discussion. During the afternoon wrap-up, the participants will develop a consensus document expressing the state of the art on grey literature.
