GreyNet Award Recipient 2017

Dr. Dobrica Savić, Head Nuclear Information Section, International Atomic Energy Agency, NIS-IAEA

"Over the past years, Dobrica has published a number of leading articles in the field of grey literature. His work with the INIS Repository Collection provides a paradigm for information professionals dealing with grey literature. He has served on consecutive GL Program Committees, assumed a leading role in drafting, promoting, and assessing the 'Pisa Declaration on Policy Development for Grey Literature Resources', and chairs GreyNet's Resource Policy Committee."

Dobrica Savić holds a PhD degree from Middlesex University in London, an MPhil degree in Library and Information Science from Loughborough University, an MA in International Relations from the University of Belgrade, as well as a Graduate Diploma in Public Administration from Concordia University in Montreal, Canada. He has extensive experience in the management and operations of web, library, information and knowledge management, as well as records management and archive services across various United Nations Agencies, including UNV, UNESCO, World Bank, ICAO, and the IAEA. His main interests are creativity, innovation and use of information technology in library and information services. d.savic@iaea.org

Nineteenth International Conference on Grey Literature

Public Awareness and Access to Grey Literature

National Research Council of Italy

Piazzale Aldo Moro 7, Rome, Italy ▪ October 23-24, 2017

Conference Announcement

Two of the most formidable problems that have faced information through the years are its overload on the one hand and its loss on the other. These are seen as interconnected with the supply and demand sides of grey literature.

A quarter century ago, the Grey Literature Network Service joined by research communities in library and information, physics, karst and marine sciences, bio-medicine, nuclear energy, archeology, and many other scientific and technical fields set out to address this loss and overload of information.

In 1992, when the call for papers went out for the first conference in the GL-Series, the response was predominantly focused on the demand side of grey literature – that which was difficult to find and even more to access. The emphasis then lie in stemming the loss of grey literature. However, the outcome of that first conference also called attention to the equally important need for further research into the supply side of grey literature – namely its production, publication, and public awareness.

GL19 seeks to demonstrate how researchers and authors in the last 25 years have made significant inroads in responding to the loss and overload of grey literature. Likewise, this conference will seek to provide new directions in achieving public awareness and access to grey literature on an ever changing information landscape. To this end, information professionals and practitioners in the sectors of government, academics, business and industry are invited to respond to this year's Call for Papers reflected in the conference topics.

The GL19 Call for Papers remains open until April 15, 2017. After this date, abstracts submitted for presentation in a Plenary Session will be evaluated by the Conference Program Committee set to meet on May 5, 2017 in Pisa, Italy. By mid-May, authors will have been notified of their place on the GL19 Conference Program.

On May 15th a formal Call for Posters will be launched, closing one month prior to the conference or when all available poster slots have been filled. Authors who choose to present a poster instead of a paper are not required to submit a full-text manuscript. However, if they so choose, it will be eligible for publication in the GL19 Conference Proceedings.

Authors elected by the Program Committee to present during one of the conference plenary sessions and who submit a full-text paper qualify to be nominated for the GreyNet Annual Award 2018. Those presenting during the conference poster session will have a chance to win the poster prize 2017.

Guidelines for Abstracts

Participants who seek to present a paper at GL19 are invited to submit an English language abstract between 350-400 words. The abstract should deal with the problem/goal, the research method/procedure, an indication of costs related to the project, as well as the anticipated results of the research. The abstract should likewise include the title of the proposed paper, conference topic(s) most suited to the paper, name(s) of the author(s), and full address information. Abstracts are the only tangible source that allows the Program Committee to guarantee the content and balance in the conference program. Every effort should be made to reflect the content of your work in the abstract submitted. Abstracts not in compliance with the guidelines may be returned to the author for revision.
